

Pliable Earth Mining for Ancient construction

12-26-2017

The claim is that the Earth is covered with Dead creatures drowned in the last Great Flood. As these creatures were stabilized in the water for years they became stabilized masses of body tissue...then they were pliable as the waterlogged carcasses dried in the open air. Being stabilized in the waters they do not rot they simply stay rubbery until dried and into mineral stone and harden like concrete.

I have the evidence that the wet pliable drying tissues were cut with machines while wet leaving tracks in the wet pliable tissue hills from High Tech Machines that hardened. The blocks were used in seamless walls as seen in the videos.

Mudfossils are soft tissue well preserved bodies and body parts separated along skin and fascia planes primarily. Bones are not normally seen or seen as fragments. Bones are preserved in dry conditions but transitioned in these wet conditions...however flesh and tendon begin to stabilize in these long wet periods. It is a very clear process called "Transitioning" that petrifies tissues in water and wet fine mud due to chemistry of stabilization. Tissues continuously transition using "Transition Metals" and carboxylation in the blood to pickup and deliver gases and nutrients and minerals etc to cells. When dead this process continues forever in wet conditions and literally seeks out molecules to become stable with leaving excellent tissue variegations and colors from the metals.

As the volatile organic compounds are purged in the waters, transition metals bond to specific tissues and stabilize them from rotting as they are waterlogged. The longer waterlogged (up to a point) the more minerals are bonded to and others flushed from these soft tissues.... in extended period floods from salt water near to a creature PH of approx 7.4 to 8 or so the preservation details can be stunning.

The amount of mudfossils on the surface indicates a recent Global flood is likely the cause of these giant creatures bodies drying out and the tendons and meat were still pliable following the flood. This event was also recorded in every culture on Earth. It was recorded at approx 4300yrs ago.

Emanuel Velikovsky a great researcher did this research personally not on a computer. This flood was said to drown the Giants which were recorded as being several miles tall in the "Book of Giants".

The Geology we see is very simple really but completely misunderstood and a very hard thing for the most "Confident" to accept because they refuse to even examine DNA reports and specimens etc...the experts are unfortunately in denial of reality....

I present several videos to support my claims that these soft pliable blocks were cut and stacked as the seamless walls in Peru.

Megalithic Seamless Perfect walls explained

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uA9OkUSGHk8&t=1s>

Did Pliable stone build the Ancient world https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JYRT4\_g6NUI&t=34s

Skin is dense with Silicon and erodes as SAND ...SiO<sub>2</sub>

Below skin is red flesh becomes clay and mud when eroded.

Red muscles mostly eroded into clay and mud but also MUDRock which is mudfossils.

The organ tissues become igneous and metamorphic.

Hearts and lungs mostly metals like Iron.

Tendons and connective tissues are  $\text{CaCO}_3$  with kaolin clay from sinovial sheaths and minerals included into porphyritic basalt limestone used as building materials worldwide.

The hex basalt columns are not volcanic they are tendon fibrils and separated due to fascia.

The limestone in creatures is not like in shells and marine life which has no kaolin bloody clay.

Granite is not understood...some is natural but always has tiny crystals not chunks....and always includes metals if natural.

Granite that has Granular homogeneous chunks of minerals but no metals are not natural and are from crushed rock mining and include almost no metals and these "Intrusions" are piles of debris found next to Orogenys which are mineral rich creature remains....mountains.

---

These are very bold claims yes that is true.....

This is not an assault on Geology or Geologists or Archaeologists or Historians...it is research that should be examined.

Research by Roger Spurr ..Mudfossil University.. Admin ..Youtube Free Education
Come to Mudfossil University ..Subscribe and see what you think...no danger there.

https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC8v44qrU\_Fdd7UN\_XlUMpew